

Hello,

This week we learn about new efforts into the study of senescent cells, how positive perceptions can help us age better, and learn how current budgetary outlooks at the NIH might impact projects in the near future. We also get a look at an interview with NIH Director Richard Hodes on aging research and the focus on extending the human health span.

Are you part of a health or life extension research organization? Our coalition has grown to over 90 member groups, including 25 major US organizations and 16 major international groups. We hope your organization will be next! Check below to find a link to join our coalition quickly and easily.

All this and more this week. Join us as we move forward into another exciting month of incredible opportunities in this burgeoning and revolutionary field.

Edwina Rogers, CEO
Global Healthspan Policy Institute

A Conversation on Aging Research

The Harvard Medical School spoke with Richard Hodes, director of the NIA about aging research and the focus on improving the overall human health span.

Read More

NIA budget: Hope for the future!

A look at the current budget picture for the NIA and how it might affect research projects in the near future.

Read More

$7.5 million to study elusive cell type important in aging, cancer, other diseases

Washington University School of Medicine is joining the new NIH research network focused on the study of senescent cells.

Read More

Aging well can sometimes mean “Mind over matter”

A new study finds that older adults who simply perceive that they’re aging well are more likely to engage in activities that help keep them healthy.

Read More

GHPI Coalition Grows to Over 90 Members

Our coalition includes 25 major US organizations and 16 major international organizations. Will yours be next?

By joining the coalition you get access to the GHPI fellows, top experts in aging research. You gain more influence over national and world events. You are invited to our pilot projects. You get access to healthspan investment funds and our ability to promote your achievements. You get news updates, and can join our weekly coordinating call that steers the future of the healthspan movement.

Join The Coalition Here

We’re Bringing the Best Research in the World to Congress - and Your Donations Are The Fuel To Our Fire!

With your help, we’re bringing the vision of a world without the spectre of diseases like cancer, heart disease, and Alzheimer’s one step closer to reality each and every day. Our team works closely with industry leaders from sectors as far-reaching as biotechnology to gene therapy to pharmaceuticals and beyond – uniting our members under a common, core mission to benefit the public trust.

Help us bring new preventions and therapeutics for the benefit of all generations, today

All Call For Volunteers For Healthier, More Productive Years of Life!

What if the US Congress took the lead funding healthspan research? Or by removing barriers to treatments to new therapeutics that can prevent diseases like cancer?

For the first time governments seem to be listening -- and you can help!

GHPI needs volunteers to engage with the public and ally nonprofit groups around the world.

Contact dcarver@healthspanpolicy.org to join the tiger team today!

Upcoming Events

Due to the ongoing COVID-19 Pandemic events are very limited. As new ones are publicized, we will include them here.

